Please amend the paragraph at page 20, lines ⁸ 8 to ¹² 9, as follow:

Once details of the transfer are negotiated and the transfer is validated, the file is transferred between the gateway and the file transfer server, preferably across a virtual channel established between service 21 and adapter 23 2314. In the preferred embodiment, the file is transferred in chunks using the hypertext transfer protocol (HTTP). If the transfer is interrupted, the transfer can be resumed without re-sending already transferred chunks.
